Beginning in the first quarter of 2015, we have adjusted the presentation of our revenue solution categories. The change primarily relates to how we present product-specific services revenue. Historically, product-specific services were classified as Service and Support Solutions revenue. Beginning in 2015, product-specific services will be classified in their respective product solution categories. The impact of the revised presentation on our revenue solution categories for the historical periods presented below, is as follows:
